

ABOUT CAROLINA BRASS

With their combination of virtuosity and good humor, Carolina Brass is a favorite among audiences of all ages. Drawing from their vast repertoire of Classical and Contemporary works, Medieval and Renaissance music, and popular forms encompassing Broadway, Jazz, Dixieland, and Big Band, the group creates exciting, entertaining and educational programs. These programs are fun and embrace the audience with music and conversation.

Established in 1997, Carolina Brass provides audiences with an opportunity to hear and experience quality chamber music in both formal and informal settings. In addition to classical recitals and pops concerts, Carolina Brass performs extensively in educational settings. These educational and entertaining programs provide students with performances, demonstrations, and master classes in an informal and interactive environment that allows audiences to ask questions and become more involved in the arts.

This Summit Recording ensemble is a group of dedicated professionals with a commitment to excellence in performance and music education. Trained at some of the country's most prestigious schools, including the New England Conservatory of Music, Indiana University, and the Eastman School of Music, Carolina Brass personnel have extensive national and international performing, recording and touring experience.

The mission of the Carolina Brass is to promote the understanding of music and to improve the performance level of musicians of all ages through performances, residencies, master classes, and recordings.
